Society of American Military Engineers: Who We Are and What We Do

During World War I, it became apparent that there was a need for our nation to access public and private sector engineers to support the nation's defense. In 1919, the Army's Chief of Engineers proposed the formation of an "association of engineers" that would preserve, and expand upon, connections formed in war and promote the advancement of engineering and its related professions. Subsequently the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME) was founded by Congressional Act in 1920. The Society's Motto was, "Dedicated to the National Defense". Today (over 100 years later), the Society has over 30,000 members from industry, military, academia and government. The Society's Mission is to, "Build leaders and lead collaboration among government and industry to develop multidisciplinary solutions to national security infrastructure challenges."
