“Omaha Post Student Mentoring Program”

*Nicole Hunter
Student Mentoring Program Steering Committee Administrator
SAME Omaha Post*

The Society of American Military Engineers' Student Mentoring Program (SMP) is designed to stimulate secondary school students' interest and excitement in engineering, architecture, and related sciences. SMP is a critical thinking program that challenges students to solve real-world problems in the community. STEM skills, teamwork, sustainable design, presentation skills, use of graphic materials, model development, cost estimating, and creative, persuasive, and technical writing are all promoted in the SMP experience. Ms. Hunter provided an overview of the program, and insight into the future direction.
